Project 00-20

References: Memo from Asst. Dir Reports and Estimates to Asst Dir. OO, subject as above, dated 14 Jan 1948

Memo from Exec for Administration and Management to Asst
Dir, OO, subject as above, dated 26 Dec 1947.

1. Foreign Documents Branch can undertake in the near future the preparation of bibliography of current Soviet periodicals generally in accordance with ORE requirements with the following limitations:

A. That a sufficiently high priority is given this project by OOD to insure its production in advance of other current projects.

1. Priorities must be re-examined at some length and at frequent intervals due to the constant submission of requirements from many sources and of varying degrees of importance. It may be found difficult or at times impossible to always give this project a sufficiently high priority to insure its rapid production.

B. That no loss is experienced in essential personnel and that there is a constant flow of additional personnel from whom vacancies now exist.

1. The personnel strength of this branch has been more or less static for some time at approximately 50% of its authorized ceiling. The effect of this has been more serious than would at first appear. The shortage in personnel is confined almost exclusively to the linguists, Editorial Section, and to the typing and stenographic section. To be certain of being continuously able to perform this project in a satisfactory manner there must be no decrease in the above-mentioned three categories. In fact, the situation is so serious that the unexpected loss of two or three key linguists could change the entire production picture of this branch in any given language.

C. That there is no great increase in the number of Russian periodicals for which the bibliography is to be required.

Project 00-20

25X1A

1. At present this branch is receiving different Russian periodicals which are being abstracted for intelligence value. The abstracts are being subsequently produced in two separate publications, one Scientific and Technical, the other including all other subjects. From the list submitted by ORE of 22 types of periodicals to be exploited, this branch has been currently abstracting nearly the entire list. On the basis that the total number of periodicals to be abstracted will not be greatly in excess of it is conservatively estimated that even with the limited personnel now available this project can be accomplished.

25X1A

2. It should be noted that Foreign Documents Branch does not have exclusive control over the procurement of foreign periodicals although every effort is made to secure the greatest number possible through its own efforts, and, further that it has no control over reproduction facilities which will be required to produce the bibliography for dissemination.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Assistant Director for Operations
THRU: Assistant Director for Reports and Estimates
FROM : Executive for A & M

DATE: 19 January 1948

SUBJECT: Project OO-20

Reference: Memorandum for Executive for A & M, subject: Project OO-20, dated 16 January 1948, from the Assistant Director for Operations, attached.

1. Reference is made to the statement of conditions under which the requirements of Project OO-20 can be met, which are included in reference.

a. The determination of priority for this project is basically the responsibility of the Assistant Director for Reports and Estimates in coordination with the Assistant Director for Collection and Dissemination.

b. Every effort will be made to meet the personnel requirements subject to overall CIA personnel security requirements.

c. One of the major factors discussed at the Projects Review Committee meeting where Project OO-20 was considered was the exploitation of material now on hand in the Library of Congress, for which no bibliography has previously been prepared. The representatives from the Documents Branch who attended that meeting indicated that they could obtain access to this material and were in a position to include such material in the overall bibliography to be prepared. Possible increase in the flow of Russian periodicals cannot be estimated at this time.

2. The specific opinion of the Assistant Director for Operations as to the capability of his Foreign Documents Branch to meet the objective in question after taking into consideration all known factors, and after appropriate coordination with the Assistant Directors for Reports and Estimates and Collection and Dissemination, is requested. In this connection, it should be kept in mind that it is considered generally undesirable to provide funds to an outside agency to perform any service for which facilities have been established in this Agency.
